Session #12

Colossians 3:18-4:1

“The Path to Change”

Read Colossians 3:18-4:1 and Discuss

3. Based on the sessions from last week and this week, how would you define ‘Christ-like submission’?
4. What do you think ‘giving up your rights for the sake of others’ looks like within your family? How well do you feel like you do this?
5. Do you find it easy or difficult to demonstrate Christ-like submission in your home? Explain.
6. What do you think are the biggest differences between how the first century Romans viewed family life versus how we in the modern west look at it?
7. In reading Paul’s instructions to family households in Colossians 3:18-4:1, what things stood out most to you? Why?
8. Looking at the words that Paul wrote to first century Roman households, do you think that there are any of his instructions that we as modern readers commonly misinterpret or misapply? What are the universal principles that both audiences would be able take away and incorporate into their homes?
9. In what areas of your family do you feel the need to do a better job of practicing Christ-like submission? If you were to successfully do this, what changes do you think you would see in your family?
